

Topic 5.2: Being an Author and Sharing Findings

Main Ideas

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Authors are people who share about a research study and are responsible for the research.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Authors get credit for doing the research. • When someone is an author on a research paper, video, brochure, poster, or presentation, it means they had an important role in the research.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If you are part of a research team, you might have the right to be an author.
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • It's important to talk with your project leader about who will be an author. • You can talk about who will be an author at the beginning, middle, and end of working together on a research team.

- When we share about research it's important to use works and ideas that are respectful.
- This can help other people learn about how to respect people with disabilities.

- It is important to reflect, or think about what you do as a researcher.
- If we think about how things went, we can make them better for next time.
