

Topic 3.4: Consent Capacity

Main Ideas

- Consent capacity is someone's ability to make their own decision about being in research.

- Consent capacity can change.
 - How much consent capacity someone needs to make their own decision will depend on the bad things that can happen in the study.

- We can make information about our research more understandable so more people can understand the good and bad things for themselves about being in a research study.
